

Question #1:

Enforcement and Accountability: If elected, will you commit to ensuring that municipal nuisance bylaws are enforced consistently and transparently for industrial operations—including noise, odour, and traffic impacts affecting nearby residential neighbourhoods—and that enforcement results are reported publicly and accountability maintained?

Yes No

If yes, please describe the specific actions you would take within your first year.

Answer:Yes.

Municipal by-laws must be enforced fairly, consistently, and within the legal authority of the municipality. Where matters fall under provincial jurisdiction, such as industrial emissions and certain industrial noise matters, the municipality should continue to work collaboratively with provincial regulators to report any noncompliance concerns.

Specific actions I would support in the first year:

- Continue strengthening municipal by-laws where gaps have been identified, including ongoing work related to nuisance and noise provisions.
- Improve clarity around buffer requirements and other development standards to avoid ambiguity.
- Support clear public reporting through Council updates on significant compliance matters, while respecting legal and administrative limits.
- Continue working collaboratively with the Regional Service Commission, municipal staff, and provincial regulators to ensure responsibilities are carried out appropriately.
- Focus on practical, enforceable solutions informed by expert advice, rather than measures that may appear responsive but would not withstand legal or technical scrutiny.

Question #2:

Protecting Residential Neighbourhoods: If elected, will you commit to placing the protection of established residential neighbourhoods as a priority when considering industrial development or expansion, including applying clear standards to protect residents' quality of life?

Yes No

If yes, please describe the principles or standards you would apply:

Answer:Yes...

Protecting residential neighbourhoods is important, but it must be balanced alongside lawful land-use planning, property rights, economic development, and established planning processes.

Principles I would apply:

- Respect approved planning processes, including public notice, professional planning advice, and statutory decision-making requirements.
- Encourage evidence-based standards related to compatibility between uses.
- Continue reviewing bylaws and planning tools to strengthen protections where improvements are warranted.
- Approach future decisions with balance, fairness, and long-term community interest in mind.

Question #3:

Communication and Resident Trust: If elected, will you commit to ensuring residents are informed, consulted, and meaningfully heard before major decisions affecting their neighbourhoods are made?

Yes No

If yes, please describe the specific communication and consultation steps you would implement:

Answer:

Yes

Residents deserve to be informed, heard, and treated respectfully. Good communication and trust are essential to good governance.

Steps I would support:

- Continue improving communication around major planning or development matters.
- Support early sharing of information whenever possible within legislative requirements.
- Encourage meaningful opportunities for residents to provide input through established processes.
- Continue improving background documentation and public explanations supporting Council decisions.
- Support ongoing improvements to communication tools and practices so residents are better informed and understand both decisions and the limits of municipal authority.
